ONANCOCK, July 22, 1888.

The Southern Methodist camp-meeting at Turiedgion's woods will begin August 2d and continue for nearly two weeks.

The new cierk's office of Accomack county is nearly completed and will be ready for occupancy in a few weeks. It is a ffe-proof building, and is probably the prettiest and most artistic clerk's office in Virginia. In striking contrast the new clerk's office is the little chicken-coop of a court-house, built more than a century ago. A new court-house and a new july would give visitors a more favorable impression of Accomack county, and it is hoped that the spirit of improvement, which seems to be abroad, will not depart before these antiquated structures are replaced by others that will-statisty the needs of the people and reflect credit on this prosperous and progressive county.

During the storm last Thursday night the tide covered the lowland marshes on the bayside. In some districts the water came up to the houses and drove the people into the upper stories. Bridges and fences were washed away and some smaller animals were drowned. This makes the third inundation that has visited the bayside region this year. About the mouth of Onancock creek the tide is said to have risen almost as high as during the terrible blizzard of last March. The pony-penning on Chincoteague Island will take place on Monday, August 15th, and will probably be the most notable in point of numbers and interest for many Resolved by the Democrats, in mass-meeting assembled. That the said meeting of July 11, 1888, does not reflect the sentiments of three fourths of the Democrats of the county of Greene and they feet aggreed thereby.

Resolved. That in the person of Hon. C. T. O'Ferrali we recegnize an able champion of the rights of the Democratic party upon the floor of Congress, and that he has ever been an honest, efficient, and patriotic representative of the people of the Seventh congressional district, and whose continued service would be of momentous interest to the people of this district and the Democratic party of the State.

On motion of Joseph Smith to elect another delegation, the following delegates and alternates were elected:

Monroe District: Delegates—E. R. Parrott and John W. Crow, Sr. Alternates—R. Dunaway and William S. Chapman.

Stanardsville District: Delegates—John M. Movers and James A. Blakey. Alternates—C. D. Shackeiford and Henry Runkle.

Ruckersville District: Delegates—Drs.

On motion the meeting adjourned sine die.

FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, July 23, 1888.

The Senate at 1 o'clock proceeded to the cansideration of the fisheries treaty in open executive session and was addressed by Mr. Dawes in opposition to its ratification.

Mr. Dawes said that the debate on the sublect was well-nigh exhausted, and that he would not have ventured to tax the weari-ness of the senators still further if he had not without much opposition, if any at all.

A story is related of Hon. W. L. Scott, the wealthy Pennsylvania congressman, who owns extensive property at Cape Charles City. A few days ago Mr. Scott was there looking after his property, and while waiting for the train lighted a cigar and began to smoke in the waiting-room. The night watchman, not recognizing Mr. Scott, waiked up to him and boidly informed him that it was against the rules of the company. that it was not authorized, and that it did not truly represent him. Mr. Teller said that this was the first dis-

(Special telegram to the Dispatch.)

STAUNTON, V.A., July 23.—A large meeting of the peopie, in which were many substantial farmers, greeted Mr. Ashton Starke here to-day. He delivered a fine address in behalf of the Virginia Exposition to be held in Richmond in October. The objects of the Exposition were sketched in a lively, happy manner. He was continuously applauded from the coumencement of his speechtill he closed. James A. Patterson, Jr., of Wannebboro', presided. A resolution offered by Judge Charles Grattan requesting the Board of Supervisors to make an appropriation to have the resources of the county exhibited was unanimously adopted.

Hon A. Koiner, Judge John W. Stout, and Robert W. Burke were appointed a committee to present the proceedings of the meeting to the Board of Supervisors and did so during the afternoon. Major Jed Hotchkes also addressed the meeting, luralishing many valuable suggestions in preparing a county exhibit, in maps, &c.

Mr. Gerard B. Stuart, who was the last living brother of Hon. Alexander H. H. Stuart, died at his residence near Waynesboro', in Augusta county, on the right of the 21st instant siter a few days' confinement to his room. He was in the eighty-fourth year of his age. Mr. Stuart represented Augusta county in the House of Delegales about 1840. He also served his county as a magistrate under the Constitution of 1829. He was never married. His educational advantages were the very best, and his mind stored by extensive reading and study gave to his social life pleasures which were much enjoyed by all who were accustomed to his society.

Sunday afternoon the residence of Dr. J. W. Pultz, two miles nerth of Staunton, was destroyed by fire, which was accidental. Part of it was an old stone building, which had been recently remodelled. Loss about $4,000; insured for $2,500.
